An Insider/Outsider Journey: Life Reflections with Nobel Laureate Carolyn Bertozzi

The Queen's University International Student Chapter of American Chemical Society (Q-ACS), in partnership with Queen's Graduate Chemistry Society (QGCS), invites you to view the live ACS Webinar by 2022 Nobel Laureate Carolyn Bertozzi. As mentioned in the official ACS announcement, this seminar is a "thought-provoking speech about her journey from privileged beginnings as the daughter of a MIT professor to overcoming systemic roadblocks in chemistry education on her road to becoming a world-renowned chemist, the surprising ways her life changed during the days of the announcement, and what she hopes can be accomplished to bring more people to chemistry after the award."
